College Y.M.C.A. Is Busy Giving Team Programs

Three Sunday Evening Programs Given—Eight Gospel Team Services on Schedule. File for Registration.

A schedule which will keep the members of the Y. M. C. A. busy every Sunday night through the summer quarter, has been drawn up by the organization. The gospel team work of the "Y" is the major work being done by the boys in churches in various Northwest Missouri counties.

Already three programs have been given by the Y. M. C. A., and there are eight others on schedule. The first program was on Mother's Day, given before the Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church of Maryville. The "Y" conducted the evening service, May 17, at the M. E. church at Cameron, and two weeks ago gave the full evening service at the Presbyterian church at Clarinda, Iowa, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor. Pashal Monk, a graduate of the College, who teaches music in the Clarinda public schools, made the arrangements for the Y. M. C. A. to give the program. "Memorial Day" was the theme of the Clarinda program. Talks on this subject were given by Stephen G. LaMar, one of the sponsors of the Y. M. C. A., and by Walter Allen, president of the organization. The "Y" quartet furnished two numbers, and William Alsop played a piano solo. Ernest Reid, Albert Hagan, Ben Thompson, Thomas Lawrence, Carl Blackwelder, Owen Thompson, William R. Holdridge of the Conservatory of Music faculty, A. J. Caulfield, another one of the sponsors, and Joe Trullinger were in the group that went to Clarinda.

"Joe" drives the bus and gets the benefit of any cigars, candy bars, or ham sandwiches that are passed out. Sunday night the boys conducted the service at King City. "The Test of a Christian Life," was the theme. Talks were given by Wilbur Pettigrew and Lawrence Gray. Two selections were furnished by the "Y" quartet. Devotions were led by Ernest Reid. About fifteen made the trip to King City. Other schedules for the season follow: M. E. church, Hopkins, June 15; Presbyterian church, Mound City, June 22; M. E. church, Princeton, June 29; M. E. church, Maysville, July 13. Three other dates are to be filled.

Many compliments have been expressed to the organization of the splendid work being done by the "Y" quartet composing Albert Hagan, Ben Thompson, William Alsop, and Thomas Lawrence. During the remainder of the summer Owen Thompson will sing in the quartet as a substitute for Lawrence who has gone to his home in Mound City, until the opening of the fall quarter in September.

President Lamkin deserves special mention for his interest in the gospel team project in granting the organization the use of the bus.

Lawrence Gray is chairman of the gospel team work, and working with him in this project is Albert Hagan and Ernest Reid.

The Y. M. C. A. will meet every Monday night, beginning June 16. Interesting programs will be arranged. An invitation to attend these meetings is extended to every man of the college.

Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week the Y. M. C. A. sponsors the picture, "The Girl Said No," starring William Haines, which will appear at the Missouri Theatre.

The organization has filed for official registration for 1930 with the state and national councils of the Y. M. C. A.

Students Will See Baseball Games

The Maryville Merchants' Baseball team will open its playing season Thursday of this week on the College diamond against the Lincoln, Nebraska, Electric Company team. The Maryville team included several members of the Bearent baseball team, and is coached by the Bearent football mentor, Lefty Davis.

According to Mr. L. E. Ziegler, manager of the team, games will be played on the home field every Thursday afternoon of the summer. While the game of this week is the only one scheduled definitely thus far, several teams have been tentatively engaged, and a full schedule will be announced at a later date.

Students of the College will be admitted to the games on tickets which may be obtained in exchange for the regular athletic coupon.

Announcements

Student athletic coupons will admit persons to the baseball games which will be played on the College diamond.

Assembly for next week will be held on Friday, June 20, instead of Wednesday, June 18. The assembly will be held at the 10:40 hour and the speaker will be Dr. James E. Rodgers, president of the department of School Health and Physical Education of the N. E. A., and director of the National Physical Education Service. Mr. Rodgers' home is in New York.

The Maryville Country Club officials are making a special rate for use of the Club's golf links to College teachers here for the summer only and also to the regular resident faculty members who may care to play golf during the summer and fall season. A special rate has also been made for Summer students. Teachers and others interested should call or see Mr. Tulloch, Phone 68.

Art Department Will Have Costume Show

A historical costume show, featuring famous women of Missouri, in their costumes representative of the type of dress worn by them, in their day, may be sponsored by the Art department of the College sometime during the summer. The show will be under the direction of Miss Olive DeLuce of the College faculty, and will be given by the students of the art classes, assisted by other divisions of the College and by the ladies of Maryville who are interested.

In the show will be seen famous Missouri women in dresses characteristic of those seen during the period of the opening of Missouri as a state, and on down through the historical periods to the present time. Students, faculty members and others who know of Missouri women especially in this Northwest Missouri District, who are worthy of recognition in the show are asked to please report them to Miss DeLuce.

Students Receive Proficiency Awards

Nine awards for proficiency in shorthand have been received by Miss James of the commerce department, from John R. Gregg, author of the system, for students in the courses 71c and 103.

The awards are given for satisfactory completion of a five minute dictation test at various speeds from 60 to 100 words per minute. Karol Oliphant and Mildred Sandison received awards for 100 words per minute, Vera Billups successfully completed the 80 word test, and Winifred Todd, Ann Adams, Nellie Russell, Ethel Folden, Catherine Wray, and Orlo Smith received the 60 word certificate.

Economics Students Make Eastern Trip

Miss Anthony, head of the department of home economics, and president of Kappa Omicron Phi, honorary national home economics fraternity, accompanied by Miss Blanshan, Gertrude Wray, and Estelle Campbell, all sponsors or officers of Alpha chapter of the fraternity at Maryville, motored to Ohio Wesleyan College at Delaware, Ohio, Friday, May 30, for installation of Xi chapter of the order.

In the new chapter 16 girls were initiated as charter members. Nearly all the girls were members of other social or honorary societies before initiation into Kappa Omicron Phi.

The trip was very interesting as well as educational for those who made it, and served as a between-quarter vacation for those of the group who are in summer school. Several points of interest were visited along the route. The first point of interest was the famous Mark Twain cave at Hannibal, Missouri. The next stop was at Jackson, Illinois, where several girls' schools are situated. The University of Illinois at Urbana proved of considerable interest.

Other stops were made at Indianapolis, at Wittenberg College in Springfield, Ohio, and at the recently burned state penitentiary at Columbus.

Ohio Wesleyan College furnished all entertainment during the stay, for the entire group, at Austin Hall, a dormitory for girls of the upper classes.

The Home and the Virtues

BY THE NATIONAL CONGRESS OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS

The home is the oldest unit of civilization. In it the mothers of ancient China taught their children politeness and obedience. In the home during the golden age of Greece, Athenians practiced wisdom, courage, temperance, and justice. Christian parents have taught faith, hope, and love. Modern life magnifies industry, service and co-operation. In these twelve virtues are the dreams of countless generations of the finest men and women the race has produced. These ideals represent a cumulated wealth far beyond our material heritage. That they shall be kept bright in the lives of each new generation is the concern of all good people. The one institution that may most naturally build these virtues into attitudes and habits is the home. Let us cherish and strengthen it. At heart the home is a spiritual unit—a glowing fire of goodwill and mutual helpfulness. The worthy home guards its income and expenditure; strives for efficient material equipment and daily routine; maintains a stimulating mental life; seeks beauty; cultivates fine companionship; fosters meditation and repose; develops the best side of each of its members. Be proud of your home. Give it the best you have. Honor thy father and thy mother.

Gives Lecture In Auditorium Monday Night

Arthur Guiterman, Noted American Poet and Writer, Gives Lecture "Laughter and Song" at College.

Arthur Guiterman, characterized as "the most American of poets," gave a lecture Monday night at the College auditorium entitled, "Laughter and Song." An audience of more than 300 persons heard the noted poet. This was the first of a series of prominent persons who will be heard from the auditorium platform during the summer quarter.

Mr. Guiterman recited a large variety of his poems, many of which were familiar to Guiterman fans. The rhythm of poetry was exemplified in the first part of his program. The poems in this phase of his lecture were presented to the audience by singing in order to show the swing that poetry carries. The last part of his lecture contained a mixture of humorous, serious, and historical poems.

Mr. Guiterman was born of American parents in Vienna, Austria, November 20, 1871. Because of the anxiety of his mother, a native of Ohio, that there should be no future doubt of his citizenship, his name was registered at the American Consulate within twenty-four hours after his birth. He was educated mainly in New York; at Grammar School No. 69, with an interval of nearly two years at Bridgeport, Conn., and at the College of the City of New York, from which he was graduated in 1891. After his graduation he was awarded the Ward Medal for highest standing in English composition. He has been elected to the Phi Beta Kappa Society in recognition of his literary work.

Since 1909 Mr. Guiterman has been a principal contributor of verse to Life, in which magazine he originated the widely imitated "Rhymed Reviews" and other features. He is also a frequent contributor to Harper's Magazine, The Saturday Evening Post, The Couth's Companion, The Ladies Home Journal, and many other leading periodicals. Joyce Kilmer, in an article in The Independent, characterized him as "the most American of poets."

Mr. Guiterman began to write verse during his eighth year and since then has written verse, serious and humorous, on any and all themes that have interested him and aroused his enthusiasm.

Ellis Meek Boosts College and Town

A good will advertising campaign has been launched by Ellis Meek, local commercial artist and a former S. T. C. student, who is placing small signs telling of the features of the city of Maryville along the highways leading to the city.

The signs, which are two and one half feet by three feet in size, are being placed with the larger signs beside the highways.

The smaller signs are so placed that they attract the attention of motorists who are leaving town.

The wording of some of the fifteen signs erected is as follows: "Maryville has a $200,000 Milk Plant," "Maryville has a State Teachers College," "Maryville has 25 Miles of Paving," and "Maryville is the City of Beautiful Homes."

The project is being financed and carried out by the artist.

Students in Art 41 Display Class Work

Perhaps you have noticed the art exhibit on display in the cases on the second floor of the administration building. The exhibit was produced by members of the commercial art class 41, under the direction of Miss Olive DeLuce, during the spring term, of the College.

Several of the attractive and artistic posters bear statements boosting the College or the city of Maryville. One of the posters has a picture of an attractive home with the inscription, "A Beautiful Home is a Good Investment." Other posters have sayings and art work appropriately arranged carrying the following sayings: "Maryville, the City of Prosperity," "Live in Nodaway County—Excellent Road System," and "Beautify Your Maryville, Home Grounds."

Another poster has an artistic sketch of the front of the College Administration building and beneath it the statement: "The Best In The Middle West."

In the exhibit there are also quotations done by illumination which are interesting, one of them framed is here given:

"Another milestone marks today
The light of passing years,
And whether skies are blue or gray
With fleeting joy or tears,
May still your heart be staunch and true,
Your spirit brave and kind;
So that the waning years for you
Leave no regrets behind."

Another one given here, has the following saying:

"Good folks, kind folks, fine folks and fair,
Sort of folks you cannot find around
You everywhere;
Other folks have folks to like, good as they can be,
But in all this big old world, you're the folks for me."

In the display also can be seen an etching done by several of the members of the class. To make the etchings, the drawing is made and placed on a plate, which is then cut by acid. The paper on which the etching is to be printed is then pressed on the plate, the grooves of which are filled with ink. The exhibit is the work of the following people: Dorothy Winger, Grace Leach, Dorothy Babb, Geraldine Hunt Barrett, Bernice Constable, Hazel Carr, Caroline Hoeffley and Elizabeth Edwards.

Y. M. C. A. Sponsors Show at Theater

The College Y. M. C. A. sponsors "The Girl Said No," which appears at the Missouri Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, starring William Haines, supported by Leila Hyams, Polly Moran, Marie Dressler, Frances X. Bushman, Jr., and Junior Coghlan. Haines plays the role of a young man recently graduated from college and up against the business world. His ineffectual attempts to keep a job in a brokerage house and make love at the same time to one of the blonde stenographers results in some hilarious situations interrupted only when his father dies, leaving him to support the family.

Y. M. men who are selling tickets for the show are: Allen Doak, Albert Hagan, William Alsop, Ben Thompson, Lawrence Wray, Carl Blackwelder, Walter Allen, and Ernest Reid.

Library Regulations

The Library will be open 7 A. M. to 10 P. M. each day except Friday. It is not open on Friday or Saturday nights.

The Library is open on Saturday from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Most reserved books will be found in the west Library. Use them and return them to the shelves. Do not take more than one book at a time. Reserved books are not to be taken from the Library.

No conversation whatever is permitted in the west Library.

Books taken from the Library must be signed for.

A new system is being tried in the use of library books. Books which are not on reserve do not need to be signed for if they are to be used in the Library. It is essential that these books be returned to the charging desk as soon as the user has finished with them in order that they may be in circulation again. If the user desires to take a book from the Library, he should sign the card which is found in the pocket in the back of the book and write on the card the time he will return it.

This is an honor system in the use of the books and as long as every student is honest and follows these regulations, this method will function. This enables the student to have quicker and better service, but it is a fifty-fifty proposition. He must join hands with the Library force, cooperate with everyone working together for the good of all concerned, the Library will be of invaluable service to the student body. Welcome to the Library! Use it and enjoy its privileges.

S. T. C. Girls Receive Honorary Sweaters

Five W. A. A. girls are proudly exhibiting their new sweaters that the organization awards in recognition of superior competitive ability, attendance, and good sportsmanship shown in the various departments of women's athletics.

These young ladies are: Lois Carroll, newly elected president of the group, Juanita Marsh, Cleola Dawson, Dorothy Cox, and Eleanor Montgomery, who is the retiring president. All of the girls have participated in some if not all of the following activities: floor, soccer, volleyball, basketball, baseball, swimming, track and tennis, showing a high degree of efficiency and skill in those sports in which they have taken part.

The W. A. A., in addition to the presentation of awards to the qualified sportswomen of the College, has contributed something toward the creation of an infallible love and respect among the students for the College for which they stand. It has helped to foster that Bearent spirit that "never dies." Eleanor Montgomery, the past president, together with the other members of the board, under the careful supervision of Miss Martindale and Miss Jack of the department of Physical Education, have carried out a very noteworthy program. The organization during the summer term under the present executive, Miss Carroll, has many plans in view. The plans include a girls' tennis tournament, and a baseball tournament. Swimming classes are preparing for a meet which is planned to be held near the close of the term. The program promises fun for all and with proper cooperation on the part of the girls of the College the success of the athletic activities is assured.

One Hundred Fourteen Are On Honor Roll

Larger Number Paid S. T. C. Alumni Association Dues in 1929-30 Than Usual. Goal Set at 214 for 1930-31.

One hundred and fourteen people are on the S. T. C. Honor Roll for having paid the alumni association dues for 1929-30.

Since there are several thousand students, former students, and graduates eligible to membership in the association, and there probably should be at least several hundred who are boosting the College through the association, by paying the one dollar dues, yet the goal for membership in the association for 1930-31 has been set for 214, which is just one hundred more than the number representing last year's membership. The membership of 114, for 1929-30 is a larger membership than the association has had, at least for several years.

The officers of the association hope that the new goal may be quickly reached. It is from the association dues, over and above the cost of the Northwest Missourian for each member that the money comes, which is used to defray the expense of printing banquet programs, for tickets, for stationery, stamps, and for other materials which the organization uses.

Only 500 double postal cards announcing the alumni association banquet were sent out this spring, yet the cards, together with the printing, cost more than seventeen dollars. The bill for the nine-piece orchestra which played for the association banquet was paid by a member of the association as a donation.

The members of the association should pay the association dues in order that the organization can continue to carry on worthwhile activities as it has done in the past.

Dues should be sent to the secretary of the Association in room 212 in the administration building. A receipt will be given for the dues and the name of the member of the association will be placed on the Honor Roll and the mailing list, to receive the Northwest Missourian.

The names of those who are on the 1929-30 Honor Roll for having paid the association dues are here given:

Lucy Mae Allen, Blanche Anderson, Opal Anderson, Thomas Annett, Oma Baneroff, Alice Barr, Birdie Besinger, Luther Blackwelder, William Booth, Bernice Bower, Rebecca Boyd, Carl Boyer, Felix Brown, Kathryn Brown, Opal Mae Brown, Thelma Brown, Lorene Bruckner, Lucille Brumbaugh, Gerald Carroll, Mabel M. ### ON GOING TO ASSEMBLY

A considerable amount of time and effort is put forth by the faculty to make our assembly programs worthwhile. Assemblies are always a welcome break in the routine of the week's work. They offer about the only chance the student body has of getting together and looking each other over. We should get inspiration from them. It is possible to get much more. Men and women from the very highest ranks in art, literature, science, music and world affairs are brought to us that we may learn and be entertained.

We get out of these assembly programs just what we bring to them and a lot that we don't. It is possible to get a great deal of benefit.

Here is usually what we do get. The acoustical properties of our auditorium are poor. Unless we pay very close attention to what is being said, and do our best to create as little disturbance as possible, what we get sometimes is something like what follows.

Perhaps some golden-throated soprano is singing. Your appreciation of her thrilling notes is marred by some one back of you rattling and reading a paper or note book. You hear an excited whisper—"Oh, Kid! What do you know about this, so and so is going to marry so and so—well of all things." You get back to the words of the song, "If I were a bird I would fly"—"right into the bath tub."

Professor Gardner announces the next number, "Miss ..... will sing" and you hear a whisper—"Oh Boy! He sure holds you tight when he dances."

Or perhaps President Lamkin is giving the week's announcements. You get something like this—"There will be a meeting of the sophomore class after assembly to discuss"—"the darling French costumes at Haines's Store you ever saw"—"the class organization for"—"the best meals in town"—"Oh Kid! but they are"—"just as tough as they make them, they say she stays out"—"the summer quarter. All sophomores are urged to"—"use the new orchid shade of lip stick, it makes you look like"—"some one stepped on my foot at the dance last night"—"be present at the meeting."

Add to all this verbal goulash a variety of coughs, snorts, grunts, groans, shuffling of feet, low-humming, paper crackling, and what-have-you in noise. Let the delicate odor of halitosis float over all, and you get a fair idea of what some persons have had to undergo at assembly.

This is not as it should be. If each one of us would refrain from making unnecessary noise, we could make our assembly periods the delightful hours of recreation and profit that they are meant to be.

Let's all do it. —E. B. T.

WIT

Wit is a quality of the mind which may make or deprive one of friends. Webster says that wit is the power of rapid and accurate observations, of making inferences and seeing applications readily and accurately; that is the quick perception of unusual or commonly unperceived analogies or relations between things apparently unrelated. Oliver W. Holmes says, "The essence of wit consists in a partial and incomplete view of whatever it touches." And does it not in fact mark the incongruous and present it in a startling manner? Wit is a keen edged sword, a tool which must be handled with great care.

But humor! Playful humor! She can gladden any heart; she can touch the tenderest spot of the most sensitive person without giving offence. George Eliot says "Humor draws its materials from situations and characteristics; wit seizes upon unexpected and complex relations. Humor is chiefly representative and descriptive. Wit is brief and sudden and sharply defined as a crystal, it does not make pictures, it is not fantastic. Nowhere in literature do we find so much wit as in the pithy sayings of Mrs. Poyser, a creation of George Eliot. Our sympathy is aroused for those upon whom she hurls the venom of her satire. But at the same time one cannot but marvel at the brilliancy of her mind. Humor appeals to the emotions, wit to the intellect. Humor is youthful; wit is more mature. E. P. Whipple writes, "Wit is abrupt, darting, scornful, and tosses its analogies in your face; humor is slow and shy and insinuates its fun in your heart. Wit is negative, analytical, destructive; humor is creative. The couplets of Pope are witty, but Sancho Panza is a humorous creation."

Wit is not a modern acquisition but is a state of mind, a quality of the imagination, a characteristic that has existed throughout the ages in few individuals. More than 2000 years ago the Roman poet, Virgil, said, "femina est semper mutabile." Alexander Pope in the 18th century expresses this same bit of wit thus; "And yet, believe me, good as well as ill, Woman's at best a contradiction still." Coleridge has said the genius of the Spanish people is exquisitely subtle, without being at all acute; hence there is so much humor and so little wit in their literature. The genius of the Italians is acute, but not subtle; hence what they think to be humorous is merely "witty." And I am beginning to wonder how he would criticize, if he were alive, the American people of today. Are we humorous, or merely witty, or are we either?

Wit is a stamp of deep and intricate thinking. It is an insignia of the individual's inventiveness and ingenuity. And, if rightly used, it is a tool that can delve deep into the niceties of a subject or object and bring forth ludicrous drollery and pleasantry. Which shall you have, a nut pick or a two-edged sword?—Margaret Conner.

LOYALTY BRINGS SUCCESS

The success of the gospel team project being carried out this summer by the Y. M. C. A. will come as a result of the loyalty of its members. About fifteen persons are giving up their Sunday evenings from car rides and picture shows to enter into full-time gospel team service. They go on these trips because they want to go, and not because they are asked to go. Their spirit is a great source of inspiration to the officers and sponsors of the local "Y" movement. Their contributions in this larger service have brought many favorable comments from ministers, Sunday school superintendents and young people's leaders throughout the college district. The congregation at Cameron was so deeply impressed with the program given by these fellows that they have become urgent that the gospel team return at a later date and give a program before a union service of the Cameron churches. This news spread to Princeton and the pastor of the Methodist church has written the Y. M. C. A. asking that the gospel team members give the full evening service in his church the last Sunday night in this month. The intensity with which the boys work in building up program themes and musical specialties, especially the quartet, shows extreme loyalty and should indicate that the spiritual life in college is going forward and not backward.—G. W. A.

ON EXAMINATIONS

High grades are not always a mark of superior intelligence. A person may obtain a high grade and still not have great mental capacity. For this reason examinations, as they are sometimes given, are not a fair indication of a person's mental capacity or of his achievement in, or benefit from a course.

A rock may be worn away by the constant dripping of water. Most any book can be mastered or memorized by constant study. But because a person has mastered or memorized the contents of a book we cannot come to the conclusion that he has grasped the relations which the contents of the book bear to any certain vocation or to the universe as a whole.

One may know nearly every single detail in a book so that it is possible to make a perfect score on a test over the contents but what of that, since an intelligent parrot might with training, in time, do the same.

A poor mark on one paper may indicate more actual benefit to the student than a perfect mark would indicate on another paper. —E. B. T.

HABITS

"Habit is a cable; we weave a thread of it each day and it becomes so strong we cannot break it." Our lives are largely made up of habits which we have acquired. We start doing a certain thing in a certain way and before long we find that we have formed a habit. When we first start the school year it is very vital that we form habits which will prove beneficial to us. From the very first we should acquire thoroughness, thriftiness, and accuracy. The student who starts out by neglecting his work in favor of pleasure soon discovers his error. William McKinley has said, "It is just as easy to form a good habit as it is a bad one, and it is just as hard to break a good habit as a bad one. So get a good habit and keep it."

County Groups at College Will Meet

Students of the various counties in the college will have opportunities to work with other students from their counties in perfecting a county organization for recreational and educational purposes during the summer session.

Resident faculty members have been selected to act as sponsors for the groups, and to help them organize. While the organizations are intended to foster the activities of the students while they are in school this summer, still it is thought that especially the educational activities of the group can be planned so that it will carry over into the educational activities of the various counties during the coming school year.

The faculty sponsors for the several counties which met at the close of the assembly period, Wednesday morning, for the purpose of organization is as follows:

Leslie G. Somerville, Andrew; Dr. Seikel, Atchison; C. E. Wells, Buchanan; Dr. J. W. Hake, Caldwell; Margaret Franken, Carroll; Miss Blanche Dow, Clay; A. J. Cauffman, Clinton; H. Phillips, Daviess; Miss Minnie James, DeKalb; Miss Mattie M. Dykes, Gentry; Dr. H. G. Dildine, Grundy; G. H. Colbert, Harrison; R. A. Kinnaird, Holt; E. W. Mounce, Livingston; Stephen G. LaMar, Mercer; Bert Cooper, Nodaway; Hubert Garrett, Platte; H. A. Foster, Ray; Miss Elvora Winfrey, Worth.

Palmer College
Palmer College at Albany has been closed, and, according to reports, it will be merged with a college in Defiance, Ohio.

This will be the first time in eighteen years that Albany has been without a junior college.

"The Palmer College plant, buildings, grounds, equipment, etc., is the property of the Western Christian Convention, Inc. A provision was made at the board meeting that if the property is not used for school purposes within a reasonable length of time, it shall be disposed of by the property authorities."

The school was organized in 1865 at LeGrand, Ia., according to the Albany Ledger, which says the college "was first known as the LeGrand Christian Institute, the name later being changed to LeGrand Christian college. In 1897 the name was changed to Palmer college, and in 1912 the school was moved to Albany.

Missouri Wesleyan College
Missouri Wesleyan College at Cameron, Mo., has been merged with Baker University at Baldwin, Kan., it has been announced by Dr. E. J. Gale, president, following a joint meeting of the college trustees and the educational board of the Missouri Methodist Conference, which controls the school.

Lindbergh Checked Himself by Chart

A story has been going the rounds that Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh made for himself a character chart, concerning which, according to the National Enquirer, he wrote:

"I came to the conclusion that if I knew the difference between the right to do a thing and the wrong way to do it, it was up to me to train myself to do the right thing all the time.

"So I drew up a list of character factors . . . At night I would read off my list, and those which I had fulfilled that day I would mark with a red cross, those I had not been called to demonstrate during the day would get no mark.

"But those characters which I had actually violated I would mark with a black cross.

"I began to check myself from day to day and to compare my 'blacks and whites' from month to month and year to year. I was glad to notice an improvement as I grew older."

These are the character factors referred to above:

Newman Club Selects Officers for Summer

The Newman Club House members met June 3 to reorganize for the summer term. All of the nineteen girls were present for the election of the officers for the organization. The officers are as follows:

Lillian Kent, president; Lucille Lyle, vice-president; Lois Dakan, secretary-treasurer; Clara White, sergeant-at-arms.

The new president took charge of the meeting and soon disposed of some business. Miss Katherine Franken, as House Mother, talked with the girls concerning regulations and offered some advice and suggestions to the group.

The president appointed the House Committee, which consists of the following girls: Misses Myrie Milligan, Dorothea Cunningham, Georgia Belle Moorshead. Some of the duties of this committee are situations arising within the house and to report the needs and desires of the group. Misses Gladys Haskell, Roberta Nicholas, Virginia Matthews, who form the membership of the social committee, assumed their responsibilities immediately by announcing a Club Dance for Friday, June 13.

Sigma Tau Delta Has Business Meeting

The Epsilon Gamma chapter of Sigma Tau Delta held a business meeting Monday evening, June 9, at the apartment of Miss Mattie M. Dykes, sponsor of the group.

The adoption of the constitution was considered but was not voted on on account of certain imperfections. Rebekah Botkin, the president, appointed two committees, one to perfect the constitution and the other to arrange the program for the summer quarter.

The organization voted to hold its regular meetings every second Monday evening during the term.

The Stroller

By T. T. T.

Well, folks, the Stroller just hasn't had time to drop round and shake hands with all of you yet, but he sure is glad that you all are here and he wants you to make the best of things. So stick and hang and stay right in there and fight 'em. And if things don't go to suit you why just grin and go ahead and don't say nuthin'.

Dickie Lamkin is on the honor roll this week for helping the Stroller. Dickie strolled over to the administration building to greet the new students and to help his Dad, so he said, when he arrived in the office. His Daddy, on looking up his references by telephone, found that he was not well recommended at home, that in fact he was supposed to be on the job at home instead of helping with the work at the College. Mrs. Bagley, who immediately came after Dickie explained that the bruises which may be seen on his arms came mostly as a result of his climbing in and out of his chicken coop where he has five chickens to look after. It seems that Dickie misses the usual number of times of getting in and out of the coop per diem, only when he hangs on a nail which predicament is always more or less of disgust to the young man.

George Walter Allen, president of the Y. M. C. A. has learned how to take some of the joy out of life. At least he knows how to take the smile off of the face of Lawrence Wray so the Stroller is informed. The story has been told how the boys were down to King City last Sunday, giving a Sunday night gospel team service. After the service was over George Walter relaxed a little and lost some of his dignity. When told to pitch in to the cats he quickly placed three or four sandwiches on his plate, whereupon the Pastor reminded him that before eating, the group should pause a moment in thanksgiving. Walter got even with Lawrence for laughing heartily at him, by quickly calling on him to ask the blessing. George says it was worth the trip just to see that change of expression on the face of Lawrence.

Speaking of strolling, those students who have never strolled down to the College greenhouse east of the administration building on a bright June morning when the flowers are all in bloom, have missed something. Why even Mr. Schowengerdt has his own private fishing pool down there.

The Stroller has it that the men students of the College will have a tennis tournament, horseshoe pitching tournament, and playground baseball tournament this summer, so there will be plenty of places to go before long.

If reports from the city officials to the Stroller are correct, Martha Wyman, Eleanor Nicholas, Mildred Fitz, and Martha Pfeiffer are unofficially assisting the city gas company. The information in the notice was concerning the re-arrangement of red lanterns. Eleanor will probably cause some more disturbance in Social Hall for a while talking about "The Cuckoos" which she saw recently in the show down town. Another report comes that there will be a College dance in the library Friday night, which all goes to show that if the sun doesn't choose to shine we will just fool him and warm up to the strains of the music.

Shoeman: Well, here are your shoes all soled. Where's the money?
Scotchman: Yes, where is it? Your sign says, "Shoes soled while you wait for one dollar." I'm still waiting for that dollar.

"Of course you have heard of the famous Tennessee Monkey Trial."
"Why no! What were they tried for?"

Elizabeth Hull, who has been attending Iowa State College at Ames, Iowa, during the last year is enrolled in the summer school at the College. Miss Hull plans to attend Iowa State College again next year.

Once upon a time a man got up early one Sunday morning to let the ice man in, and not being able to find his bath robe he slipped on his wife's kimono. When he opened the door he was greeted by a nice big kiss by the ice man. And the only way he could figure it out was that the ice man's wife had a kimono just like the one he had on.

Small Brother: I just saw you kiss my sister.

Young Man: Here, Keep still. Put this half dollar in your pocket.

SB: Here's a quarter change. One price to all—that's the way I do business.

Chapter of Sigma Tau Delta Initiates

Seven students of the College and two members of the English faculty were initiated Wednesday night, May 28, as charter members of the Epsilon Gamma chapter of the Sigma Tau Delta, national professional English fraternity. The basis of membership is scholarship and ability in creative writing. The ceremony took place at the apartment of Miss Mattie M. Dykes, acting chairman of the English department, who is a member of the Laureate chapter Mu Alpha, installed the Maryville chapter.

The following were elected as officers for the summer term: Rebekah Botkin, president; Miss Ulieta Hawkins, vice-president; Mildred Sandison, secretary; Nettie Price, treasurer; and Ruth Florea, historian. The other members are: Miss Margaret Osborn, Violet Hunter, Martha Herridge, and Clarence Worley.

After the installation service the group went to Yehle's tea room for dinner. The novel place cards were made to permit the guests to write original limericks on the blank pages. That they were original was evident:

"I lay no claims as a poet
To versify gets my go-et
And the things that I write
Between bite and bite
Would certainly not do to quo-et."

The aims of the organization are to promote a higher standard of accomplishment in the field of English, to foster creative writing among students, and to encourage worthwhile reading.

Philippine Problem Is Being Discussed

The islands are 7,000 miles from the United States. Their total land area is about 114,400 square miles. They number 11 large islands and more than 7,000 smaller ones.

In the 16th Century the islands came under control of Spain. In 1898, at the close of the Spanish-American war, they were annexed by the United States.

Cuba was also taken over. Cuba has been granted her independence. Should not the same be done, either now or soon, for the Philippines, ask the Philippines?

The answer takes up many points: Cuba has one language, one religion. Is close to the United States. Can easily be protected under the Platt amendment.

The Philippines are 7000 miles away. Are Christian, Mohammedan, Pagan. Speak 87 different dialects.

Among the improvement accredited to the Americans in the 32 years of government are those especially of transportation, sanitation, general health and education. English has been the language used in the schools, since "a language for common intercourse was needed." Mileage of first class roads increased from 305 in 1907 to 8,955 in 1928; 16 government irrigation systems have been put in operation; 164 municipal and provincial water-supply systems have been created which, excluding Manila, serve drinking water to more than half a million people.

Yet the most interesting objective of the United States has been to train the islanders for eventual self-government. How far success has been attained in this will now be brought out. The question at present takes the form of independence at the end of some short period, with gradual adjustment of trade relations or the ultimate admission of the Philippines as a state in the American Union.

What is for the best interests of the islands and also for the interests of the United States?

Will Go to Ames

Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Whiffen, who have been visiting in St. Joseph, Kansas City and Excelsior Springs since the close of the spring term, arrived in Maryville Sunday evening. They were the guests of Miss Mattie Dykes, acting head of the English department of the College Sunday evening and night, and left Maryville early Monday morning for Ames, Iowa, where Mr. Whiffen will take graduate work at Iowa State College this summer.

Vitamin Contests of Foods Are Given

An article in the Successful Farming magazine for May, which has been written by Dr. J. S. Hughes and Ethel J. Marshall, reviews again the vitamin contents of foods. Briefly they are given here.

Vitamin A is found in green leafy vegetables, yellow seeds, or brightly colored fruits, like oranges and red cherries, whole milk, cream, butter, eggs, and to some extent in liver and body glands. It is not affected by cooking or drying.

Vitamin B is not affected by cooking or drying. It is found in germs of seeds, leaves, and many fruits and nuts. Lean meat contains some and glandular tissues are fairly rich in it. It is also found in yeast.

Raw fruits and vegetables constitute the best source of vitamin C. Citrus fruits, tomatoes, and cabbage are especially valuable. These fruits must be served raw as this vitamin is destroyed by cooking and drying.

Jean Freeland, B. S. 1929, who attended the University of Missouri during the past year doing graduate work in chemistry, has been appointed to a graduate assistantship in the chemistry department for the year 1930-31.

The college swimming pool will be open Thursday night of this week from 7:30 until 9 for all students and teachers of the college wishing to swim.
